

The History of Culture, the Culture of History

Laurence Raw	Introduction
Section A:	Interdisciplinaries
Susan Bassnett	The Translation Turn in Cultural Studies
W. Randall Ward	Speculative Pre-Histories and Real-World Futures: How Fictional Pasts Can Help Determine the Future
Section B:	History and Cultural Studies
Michael Pickering	History, Cultural Studies and the Question of Tradition
Oya Batum MenteÄYe	Representations of History: Erendiz Atasü's The Other Side of the Mountain and Pat Barker's Regeneration
Donald McDonough	Darryl Pinckney's Search for Identity in High Cotton
Ronald Tamplin	Statues, War and Empire
Engin Uzmen	Nationalism in Shakespeare
G. Sinem Bingöl &amp; Aykut Uluer	Reinvention of Rudyard Kipling and Bateman's
Gülşen CanlıÄz	Construction and Deconstruction of Stereotypes
Section C:	Historical Surveys
Burçin Erol	British Colonial Expansion and the Expansion of British Food Culture 1500-1800: "Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are."
Äzebner Toplu	English Kings vs. the Ottoman Sultans: Life in Eighteenth and Nineteenth Century Britain and the Ottoman Empire
Seçkin Ergin	Two Models of English Colonisation in North America and the Formation of the Early American Cultural Identity
Meldan TanrıÄsal	Squaws and Princesses or Corn Maidens: Misconceptions and Truths about Native American Women

Section D: Global Cultures

Chris Rumford The Politics of Identity or the Politics of Disorientation?: "The Return to Culture" in Postcommunist Europe

Simon Philo Getting Dumber and Dumber: MTV's Global Equivalent

William S. Haney II Kurt Vonnegut's Slaughterhouse-Five and the Impact of War on American Culture: Shell-shock or Hysteria

Edited by: Laurence Raw
Gülriiz Büken
Günseli Sönmez işçi